

The Perfect Pair

Shopping Pro Helps Mom Regain Style

For some, shopping is an art form — an outlet for self-expression, and a constantly evolving, yet ever cyclical display of culture, status and the times. For others, shopping is a nightmare — a never-ending battle to dig through infinite racks for the perfect fit, color and brand, simply to be overwhelmed by tacky patterns, overly assertive sales people and heart-stopping price tags. >>

BY KAYLA SCHROADER | PHOTOS BY RODRIGO DEMEDEIROS

